Several capitalists, who are anxious to buy real estate in this city, complain that they have offered the sum asked for different properties on several different occasions, and in each instance the owners have turned something (they did not know what), went back on their own propositions.

Preparations for the great event of the season, the Paper Carnival, are progressing finely. The second rehearsal of the minut took place on the 17th, and judging from the rest and grace of the participants, it will be a grand feature in the carnival. The costumes are to be varied and unique, and any one failing to secure a ticket will regret it in after years. Remember it is given for sweet charity's sake.

The Latest Novelty,
And one which is attracting a great deal of attention in the Fawkes Patent Rotary Announcer, which B. F. Benson has just placed in position outside of C. H. Parsons & Co. The announcer consists of a large square show case standing upon eight feet from the sidewalk. Inside of this case is a cylinder kept constantly revolving by one of J. W. Fawkes' Patent Spring Motors. Connected to this motor is an electric bell attachment so arranged that every revolution of the cylinder the bell is made to ring, thereby calling the attention of passers-by. On the cylinder and wings that project from it are handsome some advertising cards of local houses interspersed with fine views and photographs. These "motors" are adapted to the running of display racks in windows, sewing machines, small lathes, pleasure boats, churns, and even some kind husbands have adopted them to the rocking of the cradle. C. H. Parsons & Co. has been appointed local agents for the above firm.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

The Effect of Lent Upon Social Doings—A Great Dearth of Society Happenings.

The Dullness Broken by the Delightful Progressive Euchre Party Given by Mrs. Mackintosh Last Evening.

The Order Pleasant Hours Club's Enjoyable Party—General Notes and Gossip for the Ladies.

The past week has been the dulllest yet since the beginning of lent, but what few diversions have taken place were of a high character as will be seen by the mention made below.

Mrs. Mackintosh's Party.

The home of Mrs. Richard Mackintosh was once more the scene of gay festivity last evening, when the lady entertained a large number of friends in the ever popular progressive euchre.

The elegant parlors afforded ample room for the numerous guests, and the fascinating six-handed game was adapted to the enjoyment of all. A more delightful assemblage could not be conceived, and to the charming hostess is due the credit of affording the large party an immense amount of pleasure that could have been obtained in no other way.

There were two sets of handsome prizes, the ladies' prizes being taken by Miss Mary Walker, Mrs. Lieut. Turner and Miss Hammond; and the gentlemen's prizes by Lieut. Burnham, Mr. C. S. Wilkes, and Miss Flora Kimball, this lady having consented to take a hand with these two gentlemen to win them the glory they could never have gained alone.

The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Walker, Lieut. and Mrs. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Fabian, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Fox, Miss Kimball, Miss Blanchette Kimball, Miss Sadler, Mr. J. E. Gallagher, Mr. George Dodge, Mr. S. C. Smith, Miss Sprague, Miss Harkness, Miss Mina Duff, Miss Rose Duff, Miss Conklin, Mr. Rob. Walker, Jr., Mr. Parker Norton, Lieut. Burnham, Miss Emma Walker, Miss Mercy Walker, Miss Mackintosh, Miss James, Miss Young, Miss Hammond, Miss Wilkes, Miss Barnes, Mr. Chislett, Captain Baker, Mr. J. M. Zane, Miss Potter, Miss Stanchfield, Miss Lawrence, Miss Ruth, Mr. Gambol, Mr. Pendergast, Mr. Frank Van Horn, Mr. F. E. Eccles and Mr. C. S. Wilkes.

Personal and General Notes.

The Day Nursery Carnival is still being worked up with enthusiasm.
There will be a hop at the Continental this evening.

Mrs. M. C. Fox gave another delightful party at her home on Brigham street on Wednesday evening last. The affair was up to the high standard always observed by this lady, and was complete in detail as her entertainments always are.

SOCIETY IN OGDEN.

The Pleasant Hour Club.

The crowning glory of the Pleasant Hour Club was achieved on Thursday evening in the elegantly and tastefully decorated hall of Woodmansee's building, when there was a display of womanly beauty handsomely adorned and manly dignity gracefully lowered to the occasion as has been seldom witnessed in Ogden. It was a celebration of the "Seventeenth of Ireland," to which St. Patrick, if he saw it, would have nodded his haloed head with benign complacency.

To describe the elegant and fashionable costumes would be a supererogation. Suffice it to name the parties who took part in the gay and gallant gathering.

The ladies were: Misses Clara West, Aggie Taylor, Mattie Taylor, Nettie Nelson, Ely Nelson, Dot Chase, Clara Chase, Zedman, Lottie Driver, Clara Douglas, C. Russell (Chicago), Addie Sadler, Nellie Robbins, C. S. McBeth, Lizzie Fields, Marnie Robbins, Lila Marriott, Lottie Jones, Maggie Chaplow, Sarah Douglas, Sadie Austin, Elizabeth Watts, Tilly McCaw, May McGraw, M. Reinsnyder, C. Parker, Lucetta Vest, Josie Reynolds, Kate Lyon, (Salt Lake City). Then there were the following named married ladies: Mesdames Marshall, Allen, J. S. Brown, L. Ford, Pauline Higgins (Salt Lake), J. McManus, Gardie McManus, Phil Plant, W. J. Woods, T. F. Anderson, R. T. Briggs, C. Martin, W. M. Hansen, Mrs. Watts.

These ladies scattered and spread the lure of their attractiveness and amability with a lavish profusion over the occasion, making happy the hearts of the gentlemen present whose names are affixed in the following lines:

C. H. Vanderhoof, Marsh Allen, James Andrews, T. F. Anderson, Will Bryan, Andrew, T. W. Browning, John Cheever, W. H. Cheever, Will Chase, F. W. Dyer, Will Douglas, Ralph Douglas, John Douglas, Byron Douglas, E. W. Exum, W. M. Hanson, Harry Heath, A. E. Koch, William Kay, W. Kelly, J. Ludwig, J. F. Lewis, Richard Leek, C. S. McBeth, Joseph McManus, J. M. McColloch, Henry Openheimer, Geo. Packard, T. A. Perkins, Phillip Plant, Will Rave, A. Rogers, George Stetson, John Shepard, George Schramm, J. H. Thomas, A. Thornburg, Will Wright, Albert West, W. J. Wood.

Gossip for the Ladies.

A lady in ill dress cannot very well laugh in her sleeve—nor unbecomingly herself if she feels like confessing.

Dr. Laura Weld, a graduate from a Boston medical school, has hung out her shingle in Dresden, Germany.

The Iowa agricultural college has a new degree, M. D. E. (master of domestic economy). It has already been bestowed upon two women.

Six towns in Windham county Vt. have elected women as superintendents of schools—Athens, Brookline, Grafton, Putney, Wilmington and Windham.

A Newark (N. J.) belle, who was tripped up while dancing at a ball a couple of weeks ago, is dying from the accident, by which her spine was injured.

The young ladies of a Mississippi town have organized a military company and it is said that they are practicing the manual of arms with the young men of the place.

The latest enologist of Mrs. Cleveland, says: "Her mould and style is of the kind that improves with age and merges the girl into a grand woman, who never fades or becomes unattractive."

Mrs. Solomon Snell, aged 86, at Medina, N. Y., set fire to her dress in lighting her pipe, and was cremated. The long continued use of tobacco is sure to prove deleterious, and it did in her case.

A painful rumor comes from London to the effect that Mr. Oscar Wilde wears the nether garment belonging by right to the apostle of sweetness and light, and what is worse, deserves to wear it. Thus are the mighty fallen.

In Paris young women students are numerous (most of them Russians), and generally poor, so they club together and put their resources into a common fund. One room is used as a dormitory, another as a study, etc., and a single cook does for all.

Mrs. Marion Todd, of Albion, Mich., is a successful attorney. She won her first case for a railroad contractor against a rich corporation, and now has in hand a suit against the Central Pacific for $25,000 damages.

The Rockwood pottery, at Cincinnati, founded by Mrs. Bellamy-Storer, is celebrated for its colors and glazes, than which none are finer outside of China and Japan, and for the beauty of form and finish generally. The initial experiments which have led to this perfection have been mainly conducted by women.

The London World says that Lady Rosebery's diamonds caused quite a sensation at the Calcutta state ball last month, at which she presided over many distinguished visitors. It is presumed that little or no attention was paid to the lady herself. That is the mistake that people make sometimes in over-decorating.

Princess Sarah Wismecusa is still successfully running her school at Lovelock, Nevada. The little children are said to be art scholars. The school house is on the ranch of Chief Naches, and the little boys are to be taught how to cultivate the soil. The moving spirit in these educational projects is the princess. She has long been steadily striving for the advancement of her people.

OUR MERCHANTS.

Enterprising Firms Whose New Ads. Appear To-day.

SIMON BROS.

As an example of what energy, coupled with good sound judgment, will do, we call attention to the above mentioned house. Five years ago Messrs. Fred and Joe Simon secured a room in the Emporium building, twenty-five by forty feet, and put into it a stock of millinery goods exclusively. Many old heads thought that the venture would be disastrous to these two well-known young men. They did not enjoy the same opinion and the sequel will show that the boys were correct.

By studying the wants of the Territory in this line, the business grew rapidly and a visit to their splendid store rooms was a revelation to THE DEMOCRAT representative. Their finely appointed salesroom on the ground floor is well stocked, literally with everything the finest goods. This department is presided over by the handsome salesladies in a quiet, noiseless manner, ever ready with quick eyes and deft fingers to show the right goods. A few of the styles in hats displayed by the very latest, are the Olcott, Tremont, Durant, Northwood, Sonora, Camotele Achme and Tuxedo. One rich hat from the Parisian modiste Madame Eugene is of white fancy straw, trimmed in ostrich feathers and ribbons, which is a beautiful production and fortunate will be the lady who secures it to add to her beauty.

In bonnets their display includes the following styles: Merin, Dandy, Zanza, Normandy, Ideal, Nemo, and Favorite. An exquisite bonnet of white lace, with a beauty of finish in delicate tints would be hard to surpass in any city. Their sample room is conveniently arranged, and here are displayed the finest of trimmings and ornaments, laces, flowers and ribbons in a dazzling array. A plain shawl is passed into the trimming room and after a few hours, is hauled out to gladden the heart and please the fancy of the most particular.

A walk through the ware rooms in the basement of the store reveals an array of hats and bonnets. Five years ago it would require two years to absorb the stock on hand, now two months will see its distribution completed reaching into Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, and the goods are showing.

Five years ago 25x40 feet of space, now 50x110 feet exclusive of warerooms.

AUERBACH BROS.

This firm have planned and guided to a successful issue several special sales in connection with their regular heavy trade. The long counters are lined daily with the latest fashions of fair purchasers debating upon the merits of the many pieces of fabric spread before them by the genteel clerks and salesladies, while the myriad of cash boys is kept busy, noiselessly hurrying here and there through the extensive rooms answering the call of the clerks, then swarming like bees around the cashier's desk waiting for parcels and change. So day after day the departments are conducted smoothly and conscientiously by a master hand, and the motto is that fair and courteous dealing leads to success. There are few more thorough business men in the West than these Auerbach Bros.

COWN BROS.

In this well-known house all is alive. The gentlemen's clerks and attentive salesladies are kept busy showing goods and attending to the inquiries of the many patrons of this firm. We refer again to their announcement of a special sale for one day only. The showing is attractive and must be seen to be appreciated. A splendid line of muslin wear hosiery will be offered the patrons of this house on the day mentioned in their new advertisement. They understand the trade thoroughly and keep nothing that is not in keeping with the reputation of the firm.

WALKER BROS. CO.

One of the strongest firms in our rapidly growing city, fully alive to the advantages of our region and the demands of the trade, are out to-day in an interesting announcement to the public. John J. Duke, recently returned from a tour of the sixty largest markets in the interests of the company he represented, has made heavy purchases to supply the demands made upon them by the public. Their rooms now show an activity which is good to look upon, checking, marking and displaying the choice stock of dress goods, flouncings, embroideries, parasols, etc.

The now rapidly arriving stock of fabrics has rarely been surpassed in this region, and one only has to notice their show window, turn to the right and enter the sales rooms to be convinced.

There is room for all and THE DEMOCRAT is pleased to notice the inclination, on the part of such well-known houses to make business the basis upon which interests become mutual.

DON'T THIS MEAN BOOM

A Determined Attempt Being Made by Denver Parties to Buy the Old Fort Block.

The Mormon Council Figures as an Obstructionist—It is Afraid of the Boom.

Speculations on Thirty Acres of Land at the Foot of West Temple Street—Who Are the Buyers.

The article in Thursday's DEMOCRAT calling attention to the fact that Salt Lake was then on the verge of a real estate boom—bound to be sweeping and vastly beneficial in its effects—caused no small amount of comment in the moneyed circles of this city, and led to the investigation of matters by interested parties, who now concede that the paper was correctly informed in heralding the advent of a big booming boom for this city.

Since that time still further developments have come to light, and hereafter something interesting in this line may be confidently looked for in every issue of THE DEMOCRAT.

THE OLD FORT SQUARE.

It is learned from an indisputable authority that a number of Denver capitalists who are now in this city are making a determined effort to purchase the "Old Fort Square" on Third West street.

The city authorities have been approached on the subject, but their policy seems to be to act the obstructionist and prevent the invasion of capital, which would of course be detrimental to the interests of their church. A large offer was made for the property within a few days past, but it was blankly refused.

This is not the first time that our city officials have acted this way about worthless public ground, but it is to be hoped that it will be the last.

ANOTHER SCHEME.

Another important move now on foot is brought to light in the disclosure of the fact that certain Eastern parties are now negotiating with the owners for the purchase of thirty acres of land situated at the foot of West Temple street and consisting of three full city blocks.

It is understood that this property is owned by the Walker Brothers, who will, of course, offer every inducement possible to the new enterprise, whatever it may be. While this information comes less direct than that in relation to the "Old Fort" block, it is nevertheless trustworthy and it is more than likely that another week will bring forth something of great public interest in relation to this matter.

THE CONCLUSION TO BE DRAWN.

From the fact that the locations mentioned are so earnestly sought for, can be none other than that we are to have at least two new railroads here before long.

The fact that work on the Fort Douglas road is being pushed is ample assurance that the same is in the wind. The road is being built for the purpose of hauling rock as is ridiculous as can be, and the only rational conclusion to be drawn is that one of the eastern roads has bought out the stock company, and will convey in that line. Rumor to-day again has it that the Union Pacific is going to make a short cut through Emigration to this city. If this is not the case (Ogden forgive us) why on earth is the work on the union depot at the Junction City at a stand-still for month after month?

That other roads are heading this way is equally sure, but more will be said of them when matters take a more definite form.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

As an indication of the recent rise in the value of real estate this is not bad. Mr. L. C. Karkick paid a very handsome price for his lot on Main street, less than thirty days ago, but notwithstanding this he has already been offered an advance of 20 per cent on the price paid.

There are no less than nine capitalists in this city at present from different parts of the West, and the fact is being talked about with a view to investing here.

There are some other important transactions now pending between residents and Eastern parties, the particulars of which will be divulged at an early date.

THE CLIFT HOUSE.

How Mr. Brizen is Fixed in His New Home.

The Clift House, situated on the corner of Main and Third South streets, is one of the neatest and most homelike hotels in town. The comfort to be enjoyed there is demonstrated by the fact that, of the sixty guests who are here, only two that are unoccupied at present.

The office has been repapered—ceiling as well as walls. The bedrooms, which are all repapered and remodeled, are furnished with a hard wood bedroom set and velvet or Brussels carpets. The halls, with the papered ceilings and Brussels carpets, will compare most favorably with those of the Eastern hotels. The ladies' parlor, also, is a feature not to be overlooked; it is refurnished with a handsome upright piano, Brussels carpet, oil paintings and mahogany and plush furniture.

The kitchen has all the modern conveniences. Directly over the range is a pipe with a hopper-shaped mouth, which takes off the fumes of cooking. It has also a hot water boiler, in connection with 100 gallon capacity.

The dining room was not skipped by the paper-hanger. The large ceiling is an example of perfect workmanship. The floor of this room, as well as that of the kitchen is of hard wood. The picturesque appearance of the bar-room cannot be described. The bar and ice safe, which are made of various kinds of polished hard wood, the painted ceiling and cornice, the brass chandeliers, the immense oil painting and the large plate-glass mirrors that reflect all in the room, present an appearance that must be seen to be appreciated.

In conclusion, the cooks are white men and are managed by the best chefs who are all connected with the central office by electric bells, and the upper floor is level with the roofs of the building on one side, which in case of necessity would furnish a splendid fire escape.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

The Dixie Picnic Enjoyed at the Theatre Last Night.

That what is known on the American stage as the dramatization of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," draws the public, is one of the painful phenomena of the age, and that the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" placed on the boards of the Salt Lake Theatre last night is ever looked at or listened to by the public is something which requires an agonized effort of comprehension to understand. The only plot the "drama" ever boasted is a plot against the public peace, and the fiendish design was well elaborated last evening. The lawyer, Marks, sported two representatives, and each twin was worse than the other, their acting being even more villainous than their characters. Undue and aggressive dramatic enterprise is noted here. Even "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will hold only one Marks. In fact, the whole double business is a mistake. A single "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is bad enough—a double one is but an aggravation of the offense. As far as its feebleness would allow it to be anything, last night's performance was a fraud. Uncle Tom evidently does not improve with age. It is time that the hoary imposition of him and his cabin was fired.

HENRY GROW SENTENCED.

Other Business Before Judge Zane To-day.

The following business was done in Judge Zane's Court to-day:

In the case of the People vs. Samuel Tobias, Saturday 20th inst. was set as the date for sentence.

In the case of Durrell vs. Snowden, the stay was continued until the motion for a new trial is disposed of.

Busbey vs. Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company dismissed.

The People vs. Milo Vincent; sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs. Motion to relax costs overruled.

United States vs. John England; sentence set for the 21st inst.

Maria Evans vs. S. P. V. R. R.; jury disagreed and was discharged.

General Lechminat, petit juror, was excused.

Joseph Mills was admitted to citizenship.

Henry Grow, cohab., was sentenced to serve a term of five months in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $50 and costs. Adjourned.

INCORPORATED.

The American Mining Company Files Articles To-day.

The articles of incorporation of the American Mining Company were filed with Clerk Zane of the Third District Court, this afternoon. The capital stock is $500,000, divided into 100,000 shares of the par value of $5 per share.

The incorporators are: Jas. W. Pitts, Philip Marquette, Daniel Turngren and Lewis Martin.

The object of the corporation is to carry on a general mining business, with headquarters in this city. The corporate existence of the organization is fifty years.

PERSONALS.

Joe Sharp left for Pleasant Valley this morning.

Richard Keyes, of Scott & Co., left for the South to-day.

The Camas No. 1 Mining Company organized to-day.

Mr. J. H. Young returned from the East last evening.

The bullion and ore markets are exceptionally lively this week.

Mr. S. K. Hooper is expected from San Francisco to-morrow, being called to the bedside of his sick mother.

Colonel and Mrs. Mackinnon, of London, and Colonel Bruce, from India, are stopping at the Walker House.

J. F. Schwartz, president of the Mingo Smelting Company, came from the west and can be seen at the Walker House to-day.

Mrs. Captain Hooper's condition was somewhat improved to-day, and strong hopes are entertained that the worst is past.

Hon. M. W. White, a member of the Montana Legislature, who is spending a few days in the city, paid THE DEMOCRAT office a pleasant visit this forenoon.

Charles Hatton, business manager of Baird's Minstrel Troupe, is registered at the Clift House to-day. He hails from the north and is going to California.

Wesley Scisson, agent of Clara Morris, was erroneously stated to be stopping at the Continental in yesterday's DEMOCRAT. He is at the Walker House.

D. Y. Dillon, of San Francisco, middle weight champion of California, called at our office to-day. The gentleman is here on business and pleasure combined and will remain here for some weeks.

Dave and Chiff Miller, two of the finest looking shepherds in the country, are in town to-day. They report the flocks as doing well and losses light during the winter.

Harry Haynes, who was injured last Sunday, was in town to-day limping around on a cane nursing his game leg. It was a close call for our genial friend, and his presence on the street is a pleasure to all his friends.

Mr. W. J. Penrose of the Butte City (Mont.) Mining Journal, paid THE DEMOCRAT office a pleasant visit last evening. He speaks encouragingly of the mining prospects at But
